1. Introduction

- 1.1 The Australian Government's Employment Assistance Fund (EAF) provides financial assistance to a person with disability or their Employer for workplace modifications, equipment and services they require as a result of their disability, and are necessary for them to be able to perform their Employment duties.
- 1.2 These Guidelines outline the assistance that is available and provide information for Applicants about the eligibility criteria, the application process and the documentation needed to support the application. It is important that the Applicant and the person with disability (if they are not also the Applicant) read this document before submitting the EAF Application. A JobAccess Adviser can be contacted if further information is required. Contact details are available in Section 10 of these Guidelines.
- 1.3 The EAF is delivered through the Australian Government's JobAccess provider. JobAccess is an information and advice service for all disability employment matters. All EAF Applications are made online through JobAccess (www.jobaccess.gov.au).
- 1.4 Capitalised terms in these Guidelines are defined in the Glossary at Section 11.

Objective

- 1.5 The objective of the EAF is to encourage and support the Employment of people with disability, improve their access to work opportunities, and maximise their capacity and workplace independence.
- 1.6 Employers have obligations under the Disability Discrimination Act 1992 (Cth) to make reasonable adjustments in work arrangements for their employees with disability, to ensure they have equal opportunities in the workplace. The EAF provides assistance to Employers to help meet the cost of Modifications their Employee with disability may require to do their job.

2. Who is eligible for EAF assistance

- 2.1 To be eligible for assistance a person with disability must:
 - a) have an ongoing disability that has lasted (or is likely to last) for at least two years and results in limitation, restriction or impairment that substantially affects that person's Employment and everyday work related activities; and
 - b) require a Modification to their workplace as a result of their disability, and the Modification is essential to carrying out their Employment duties; and
 - c) be an Australian Resident (as defined in the Glossary to these guidelines).
 - i. An exception to this requirement is where, from 1 June 2021, an Applicant is either a Temporary Protection Visa (TPV) holder or a Safe Haven Enterprise Visa (SHEV) holder.

A person with disability must also meet at least one of the following criteria:

- d) have an offer of Employment or be Employed for a minimum of eight hours per week, for at least 13 weeks;
- e) be Employed for a minimum of eight hours per week, where that Employment is reasonably expected to continue for at least 13 weeks; or
- f) be a Self-employed Worker who has been working at least 8 hours per week over the last 13 weeks and earning an hourly income that is at least equivalent to the National Minimum Wage.

- 2.2 A person with disability who has periods of Employment of less than 13 weeks, or who is Employed in a position that may not be continuous (e.g. seasonal industries) may also be eligible for EAF assistance. Applications in these circumstances will be considered and approved by the JobAccess provider on a case by case basis.
- 2.3 A person with disability who requires work related assistive technology, special work equipment or Auslan interpreting to look for or prepare for a job may be eligible for EAF and may be exempt from the eligibility requirements set out above in 2.1(b), 2.1(d), (e) and (f).
- 2.4 The Applicant will be required to submit documentary evidence with the EAF Application that confirms eligibility. The types of evidence that can be submitted are detailed in Section 8 of these Guidelines.

3. What EAF covers

- 3.1 Subject to 5.2, EAF covers workplace modifications, work equipment, Auslan services and workplace assistance and support services.
- 3.2 Assistance under the EAF must be clearly directed to the specific needs of the person with disability and be essential for them to perform their Employment duties. Examples of Modifications are listed in the tables below at 3.7, 3.12 and 3.15.
- 3.3 The cost of the Modification must represent value for money for the Australian Government and be reasonable, taking into consideration the extent to which it will be used to complete essential employment duties and whether a more reasonable alternative adjustment can be made.
- 3.4 It is important to note that EAF Applications will not be approved for items and services already purchased or where a commitment has been made to be purchased. Reimbursement is only available after an EAF Application has been approved and the Applicant has received written notice of that approval.
- 3.5 There will be circumstances, including where the Modification is for personal use as well as for Employment, when the JobAccess provider may approve partial reimbursement.
- 3.6 Where a number of Employees would be assisted as a result of a Modification, the JobAccess provider will consider EAF Applications for multiple Employees on a case by case basis.
- 3.7 EAF assistance may be available for workplace modifications and equipment as detailed in the table below.

Workplace modifications and equipment

Type	Examples	Conditions
Computer software and software upgrades	Screen reading software Speech recognition software Braille recognition software	Approved on a case by case basis, for those who require special software to carry out employment duties due to their disability.
Modifications to work Vehicles	Seat belt extensions Car seat cushions Extensions to foot and hand controls Ramps Swivel Seats Wheelchair docking	Where the Employee uses the work Vehicle as part of the essential activities of their job. For example, a courier/delivery driver whose role it is to deliver items.
Communication technology devices	Paging systems Braille printers Joysticks, mouse alternatives and touchpads Assistive listening devices Voice recorders Alert systems for telephone, doors and fire alarms Headsets	Cochlear implants and hearing aids are not funded by EAF.
Items of work equipment, or modifications to existing work equipment	Talking cash registers Automatic floor cleaning devices Talking tape measure Adapted kitchen appliances Desks or chairs Work platforms	Items that the Employer is obligated to provide an Employee are not funded by EAF.
Physical workplace adjustments	Alternative lighting Wheelchair accessible toilets Access ramps Noise control devices Automatic doors and alert systems Workstation height adjustments Adjusting locations of shelves and entry switches	Building modifications are capped at $60,000 (GST exclusive) per applicant Building modifications can only be considered where there is written agreement from the building owner or landlord that the building modification can be implemented. All EAF Applications that include building modifications require a Workplace Modifications Assessment which will be arranged by the JobAccess provider.

Note: This list provides examples of modifications that may be approved for funding. It is not meant to be a complete list. There will be some circumstances where the percentage of personal use, versus work use will be considered when determining the amount that will be approved.

Ownership, maintenance and replacement of Modifications

- 3.8 It is important to identify who will own the Modification once the item or items have been approved for purchase. Ownership must be confirmed in writing prior to approval of the EAF Application. This will determine who is responsible for maintenance or repairs and what will happen to the Modification if the person with disability changes jobs. Ownership of the Modification must be agreed to in writing between the JobAccess provider and any party benefiting from the Modification.
- 3.9 Responsibility for ongoing maintenance, repair or replacement of the Modification, and liability as a result of injury caused by the Modification, will rest with the owner of the Modification. The Australian Government or the JobAccess provider does not accept any responsibility for such maintenance, repair, replacement, liability or insurance.
- 3.10 If an Employee with disability changes Employment, Modifications that are portable should move with that Employee. If the owner of the Modification is not the person with disability and the Modification is portable, the owner should ensure the Modification:
- moves with the person with disability to their new job; or
 - where the Employee is a Participant, is transferred to a Disability Employment Services Program provider, Workforce Australia provider or Community Development Program provider to be used by another person with disability; or
 - is retained in the workplace to be used by another person with similar needs.

Auslan Interpreting Services

Survey results will be de-identified and used by DSS for policy development and program evaluation.

6. How to apply

- 6.1 All EAF Applications are made online through the Online Services secure site on JobAccess \(www.jobaccess.gov.au\). Links to the Online Services are located at the top left of the JobAccess homepage. JobAccess includes instructions on how to complete an EAF Application, which can be found under Available Support>Financial Support>Programs>Employment Assistance Fund (EAF). However, if you need assistance completing the EAF Application, contact a JobAccess Adviser on 1800 464 800.

- 7.1 EAF Applications will not be approved for items already purchased or where a commitment has been made to purchase— except in the case of Auslan Level 2 assistance where applications can be lodged up to five business days post interview. Reimbursement is only available after an EAF

Application has been approved in writing and proof of purchase has been submitted to the JobAccess provider within given timeframes outlined at 7.9 of these Guidelines.

The Workplace Modification Assessment

- 7.2 An EAF Application is subject to a Workplace Modification Assessment (WMS Assessment) unless this requirement is waived by the JobAccess provider. A WMS Assessment may be waived for items costing up to $1,000 (GST inclusive) or in some circumstances, and subject to consideration by the JobAccess provider, where the EAF Application has provided clear written justification, as outlined in Section 8, about the item being requested. EAF Applications submitted by Disability Employment Service Program providers, Workforce Australia providers or Community Development Program providers for Modifications totalling less than $10,000 may not require a WMS Assessment.
- 7.3 There is no cost to the Applicant for WMS Assessments. They are arranged by the JobAccess provider and conducted by professional, qualified WMS Assessors from the National Panel of Assessors. The WMS Assessment involves an evaluation of a specific job in a specific workplace and makes recommendations for the most cost effective Modifications to enable the person with disability carry out their employment duties or increase work productivity.
- 7.4 If a WMS Assessment is required, the JobAccess provider will contact the Applicant. The JobAccess provider will select a WMS Assessor with relevant disability and industry experience to conduct the WMS Assessment. - the worksite tasks of the person with disability;

- 7.7 The WMS Assessor will submit the finalised WMS Report to the JobAccess provider. The JobAccess provider will review the report and request any additional information where required.

Notification of the outcome of the EAF Application

- 7.8 The JobAccess provider will provide the Applicant with written advice of whether the EAF Application has been approved or not approved. This advice will include information about ownership of the item(s).

Reimbursement

- 7.9 If the EAF Application has been approved the Applicant can then purchase the Modification. The Applicant must provide an invoice and proof of payment to the JobAccess provider. The invoice and proof of payment must be sent to the JobAccess provider within 21 days of final approval of the EAF Application. The JobAccess provider may not pay or reimburse claims that are over 30 days of the final approval of the EAF Application. In circumstances where this timeframe may not be met, please contact the JobAccess provider. Some applications in these circumstances may be considered by the JobAccess provider on a case by case basis.

- 7.10 After the JobAccess provider has received the invoice and proof of payment, reimbursement will be made by electronic funds transfer to the Applicant.
- 7.11 Alternative arrangements are available for Employees, Self-employed Workers and job seekers who may submit a request to the JobAccess provider to pay the supplier directly. These requests will be considered on a case by case basis by the JobAccess provider.

Auslan Level 1

- 7.12 After an EAF Application for Auslan Level 1 has been approved, it is active for 12 calendar months from approved date. Invoices and proof of payment should be submitted to the JobAccess provider for reimbursement until the 12 month period expires or until the $12,000 cap has been reached, whichever occurs first. Applications that do not meet these circumstances may be considered by the JobAccess provider on a case by case basis.

- 7.13 Applications for Auslan 2 can be lodged up to five business days post interview.
